

97 ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Unique Exercises By Members Of Class Is Feature Of Event.

DR. THOMAS CLINE ADDRESSES CLASS

Commencement exercises that differed in every respect from the formal and sometimes uninteresting speech making programs of previous years were held before an audience that filled the auditorium of the Gettysburg high school to overflowing as 97 seniors, one of the largest classes ever graduated at the high school, received their diplomas. The entire program was in charge of members of the senior class.

Dr. Thomas L. Cline, head of the English department of Gettysburg college, in a short address, told the graduating class of the difficulties that lay ahead of them in the world outside the schoolroom and gave them rules on how to meet the various contingencies that would arise.

All the members of the senior class who took part in the program were in costume while the background for the exercises was painted scenery brought here from Lancaster for the occasion. Lighting effects also added to the beauty and uniqueness of the program.

March Played

The exercises opened by a coronation march by the Gettysburg high school orchestra followed by the prologue by Marion Miller in which she gave the theme of the program "The Launching of the Ship." Donald McC. Swope, president of the class, took charge of the program and presided throughout the remainder of the class, as class representative, then the evening. Harry Geiselman acted as captain of the ship.

An interpretative dance, representing the dangers in life, and given by the storm and fog spirits, the pirates and Circe and her nymphs came next. The storm and fog spirits were Anna Grimm, Dorothy Voorhees, Helen Thomas, Sara Snyder, Dorothy Kauffman and Lucille Thomas; the pirates, Dale Pitzer, John Pitzer, Edward Devener and Edwin Klinefelter; and Circe and her nymphs, Margaret Waters, Anna Grimm, Dorothy Voorhees and Helen Thomas.

The water sprites, representing joy and happiness, danced next. Kathryn Maust represented spirit of education; Wallace Davies, mastery of tools; mastery of technique, Edward Buleit, and mastery of spirit of learning, William Shade.

As the pageant unfolded its theme, each person told of the functions ascribed to him or her as a member of the cast of the pageant.

Spirit Of Learning

Edna Saby, with a talk on Pennsylvania and education, in which she reviewed the history of the state's schools in outline, opened part two of the program. Florence Musselman followed with a talk on how the local system provides for the mastery of tools, technique and the spirit of learning. Then, in rapid order, sketches of the different phases of the school work were given.

In the field of social science, Richard Rudisill represented George Washington; Joseph Bowser, Benjamin Franklin; Jay Schmitt, Abraham Lincoln, and Harold Wentz was a present day patriot.

Science was represented by Preston Null and Fred Tipton; literature and fine arts by Charles Ott and Shakespear, and William Kadel as Milton.

Six girls formed a frieze as a background for the theme. They were: Kathryn Beiler, Myrtle Martz, Mildred Flemming, Ruth Daye, Charlotte McClellan and Mildred Shriver. Music by a sextette composed of Mary Swope, Margaret Waters, Bernice Taylor, Alta McClellan, Alta Rickard and Eleanor Romberger followed.

Other phases of school life and studies followed the song, Guy Brown as Cicero representing the ancient languages and explaining their uses; Louise Hartzell and Helen Conover speaking in French in a French setting; and Katherine Ridinger, Wilbur Little, Mary Yeagy, Myron Clapsaddle and Martha Ridinger giving a commercial demonstration.

Dr. Cline's address opened the third part of the program, which was followed by the reading of the class roll by Professor Guile W. Le- (Continued on Second Page)

Biglerville Girl Wins Nurse Award

Miss Marion Miller, daughter of J. D. Miller, Biglerville, member of the graduating class of the Reading hospital, Reading, was awarded the Priscilla Seltzer scholarship. It was learned here today. The award was made at commencement exercises.

Miss Miller also was awarded a $10 gold piece for the best work in obstetrics. The Seltzer prize gives the recipient $250 for additional work in the nursing profession and must be used before 1933. It is given each year to the member of the graduating class at the Reading hospital training school who has shown the greatest interest in nursing and hospital supervision.

Miss Miller expects to return to her home in Biglerville on August 23 when her three year training period is completed. She was graduated from the Biglerville high school in 1928.

SHORT MEETING HELD BY COUNCIL

Turn Down Proposal For Parking Lot Along Carlisle Street.

Council tabled a proposition of E. F. Strausbaugh to rent to the borough a lot between Carlisle and North Stratton streets as a public parking space at the regular June meeting, Thursday evening.

Through Burgess C. A. Heiges, Mr. Strausbaugh, who appeared before council personally on behalf of his proposition last month, offered to rent the ground to the borough for $25 a month. Approximately 125 cars could be accommodated on the lot.

Councilmen expressed the opinion that while free parking space would be desirable here, particularly on Saturday evenings, renting of a field would not justify the outlay inasmuch as the ground would probably be used only once a week.

Council was late meeting, owing to the absence of a quorum, and President P. C. Stock was just about ready to call off the meeting when the fifth member appeared.

The report of Burgess C. A. Heiges for May showed collections of $189. Bills ordered paid included the following:

Joseph E. Codori, $72.95; John S. Ogden, $3; C. E. Zeigler, $3; American fire equipment company, $42.66; H. H. Thomas hardware store, $1.75; Oyster tire company, $5.85; William F. Haner, $13; H. and H. machine shop, $17.53; and United telephone company, $8.65.

Besides Mr. Stock other councilmen present at the meeting were: Wimber B. Neely, F. B. Deardorff, W. I. Oyler and J. Allen Dickson.

MRS. ROHRBAUGH DEAD

Mrs. Amy Rohrbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Biehl, of York, former residents of Fairfield, died in the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore Thursday after a two weeks illness. Her death was caused by a heart condition. Two sons, Glenn and Max, both at home, and her husband, William Rohrbach, York, survive. Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her mother's home at 2222 West Market street, York.

ARRESTED DRIVER

William A. Moyer, Jr., Sunbury, was arrested in Hanover this morning by a local state highway motor patrolman for having a truck overloaded. The truck, owned by Charles F. Clark, Sunbury, was 1,020 pounds over-weight, the patrolman said. An information against Moyer was laid before Justice of the Peace L. D. Sell, Hanover.

To the Editor of The Times: Hollywood, June 5—We used to always be talking and "sloganing" about "back to normalcy." Well, that's right where we are now and there we are going to stay, so we might just as well get used to it. It's taught us one important fact, that we haven't got as many "big men" as we thought we had. We used to think every head of a big organization was a "big man," and he was as long as everything was running in spite of him. But when Old Man "Get-back-to-earth" hit us in the jaw, why, we didn't have an industry that shrunk like the "big man" industry did. Big men are just like stocks now. They are selling at just what they are worth, no more.

Yours,

Will Rogers

MT. ST. MARY'S COMMENCEMENT

Rev. Mark E. Stock Will Be Speaker At High School Exercises.

Final arrangements for the one hundred and twenty-third annual commencement at Mount St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg have been announced by Msgr. B. J. Bradley, president of the institution.

With the largest class ever graduated from the college, the closing exercises will begin Sunday with ordinations, when a number of young men in the seminary will be elevated to the priesthood.

Bishop McNamara To Officiate

The ceremonies will take place in the college church. The Rt. Rev. John M. McNamara, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, will officiate. He will be assisted by members of the seminary faculty staff.

Tuesday evening the high school commencement exercises will be held in the college gymnasium, at which Msgr. Bradley will preside. The address to the graduates will be delivered by the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock, '05, of Gettysburg.

Alumni To Meet

At 1 p. m. the annual alumni association meeting will take place. Following the meeting, the annual commencement baseball game will take place, when the Mount St. Mary's varsity will cross bats with the Baltimore fire department team. The fire department band and drum corps will give a concert.

The evening will be given over to the oratorical contest, at which the Watterson prize will be awarded.

Archbishop To Preside

The commencement exercises proper will take place at 9 a. m. June 12. The academic procession will assemble at the seminary building and march to the gymnasium, where the exercises will be held. Archbishop Curley will preside and deliver the address to the graduates.

The alumni banquet will follow the annual business meeting of Mount St. Mary's council. The banquet will be in charge of J. J. O'Brien, Wheeling, West Virginia, president of the national alumni association.

East Berlin High Graduates Class

Commencement exercises were held at the East Berlin high school Thursday night in the East Berlin Lutheran church. Prof. J. W. Bucher, a former principal of the school, making the commencement address. At the present time, Prof. Bucher is professor of English at Temple university. He spoke about the patriotic, social and religious opportunities and duties of the present day youth.

The presentation of the diplomas was made by the Rev. J. Harold Little, principal of the school. The invocation and benediction were pronounced by the Rev. H. D. Houtz.

$18.44 Per Capita Is Paid By County Residents to State; Return Is $8.96 for Each Person

Auditor General Completes Study Of State Revenue Revealing That Almost Half Of Taxes Come Back In Benefits To County.

Auditor General Charles A. Waters has completed a study of state revenue creditable to each county, and of approximations of state moneys to the counties. These figures reveal that for the fiscal year 1930, Adams county contributed in state revenues $18.44 for each man, woman, and child in the county and received through appropriations $8.96 per capita.

The general road program of the commonwealth is considered a state-wide project and is not reflected in these figures. The difference, therefore, between Adams county's per capita contributed and its per capita returned, is the cost per individual of the general administration of the state government together with the vast construction of highways and their maintenance. Adams county's returns to the commonwealth consisted of receipts from county officers, including inheritance taxes to the amount of $48,436; motor vehicle registration, etcetera, $162,600; gasoline tax collections $214,753; foreign fire insurance tax $1,574; corporation taxes allocated according to population $276,885 or a total of $704,048.

The returns to Adams county by legislative appropriations for the year were: Welfare $5,694; education $124,578; judiciary $5,775; highways $172,550; miscellaneous $23,661 making a total of $332,258. Based on the 1930 census, the total receipts of the commonwealth represent a per capita of $17.03, while the cost of maintaining the government of the commonwealth for the fiscal year showed a per capita return of $9.70.

CLASS DAY HELD BEFORE OLD DORM FULMER RITES AT JOHNSTOWN

Traditional Event Takes Place In Historic Spot; Dr. Hanson Speaks.

On the shaded campus in front of historic Old Dorm, members of the senior class at Gettysburg college held class day exercises this afternoon. Many parents and friends of the 128 graduates were grouped around the campus for the exercises.

David E. Good, of Ephrata, class marshal, was in charge of the exercises and gave the opening address, after which George N. Lucas, York, read the class history.

The traditional mantle ceremony was performed by G. Kenneth Newbould, Gettysburg, president of the senior class, and James Livingood, Birdsboro, vice president of the junior class, the former, with appropriate remarks, presenting the robe to the latter, who gave a speech of acceptance on behalf of the juniors.

In Hospital

Raber Seely, president of the junior class, was to have accepted the mantle from Mr. Newbould, but he is seriously ill in the Warner hospital, and his part of the ceremony was delegated to the vice president of the class.

The principal address at the class day ceremony was given by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college. Afterward, Richard Martin, York, gave the Ivy oration, and the exercises closed with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

Besides Mr. Newbould, president, other officers of the senior class are: Edward Fries, Greencastle; Lawrence K. Thompson, Vandergrift; secretary: Joseph Seyfert, Reading; treasurer, and George N. Lucas, York, historian.

Fraternity Brothers To Act As Pallbearers At Funeral.

Funeral services for Herbert B. Fulmer, 18-year-old Gettysburg college freshman, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident, near Bonneville, Wednesday evening, will be held at his home in Johnstown this evening at 6 o'clock.

Six members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity here of which the deceased was a member plan to attend the services and will serve as pallbearers. Dr. Charles F. Sanders, head of the philosophy department, will represent the college at the last rites.

Fulmer will be buried at 1 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, at Williamsport where the family formerly resided.

Kenneth McMillan, a sophomore, who, together with John Stoner, was with Fulmer when the latter's car ran off the highway and sideswiped a telephone pole while en route to Hanover, will attend the funeral. The other members of the chapter who will attend are: Edward Hardy, Ira Zeigler, Daniel W. Long, John Messec and Donald Stoner.

Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Adams county coroner, today said he has not yet set the date for an inquest into Fulmer's death.

CONVICT SLAYER

Wilkes-Barre, June 5 (AP).—Frank Leonard, 34, was convicted today of murder in the first degree for shooting Al Janetti, prize fight manager, during a robbery. The jury fixed the penalty as life imprisonment.

SYNODSPONSORS S. S. MEETING IN CHURCH HERE

Delegates From Many Churches Expected To Attend Session.

NOTED PASTORS ARE ON PROGRAM

The first annual Sunday school convention of the West Pennsylvania synod of the United Lutheran church will be held at St. James' Lutheran church here, Thursday, June 11.

Every Sunday school in the synod has been requested to send at least one delegate from its children's department, two from its young people's division and three from its adult division to the meeting. Every general superintendent and every departmental superintendent in the synod is urged to attend.

The Rev. Dr. Earl S. Rudisill, York, chairman of the committee for the convention, will preside at the forenoon session, beginning at 10 o'clock. C. C. Culp, general superintendent of St. James' Lutheran church, will give the address of welcome. The Rev. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford, will give the response.

Convention Speakers

Speakers at the morning session will be Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, of the Lutheran theological seminary here, whose subject will be "The New Program of Religious Education," and the Rev. Dr. C. P. Wiles, of Philadelphia, who will speak on the theme "The Christian Life Lesson Series." After a discussion, the forenoon session will adjourn.

The Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, will preside at the afternoon session, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Greetings from the president of the West Pennsylvania synod, the Rev. M. R. Hamsher, Mechanicsburg, will be given at the afternoon session, at which addresses will be given by the Rev. Dr. A. B. Van Ormer, of Huntingdon, whose topic is "Religion, the Only Hope" and the Rev. Dr. Wiles, whose subject is "Effective Teaching."

Three Conferences

Three conferences have been arranged for the afternoon. The leaders will be Mrs. T. L. Gray, Philadelphia, Children's division; the Rev. O. C. Dean, Hanover, Young People's division, and Ervin M. Spangler, Adult division.

At the close of the afternoon session, the delegates will hold a picnic luncheon on the campus at Gettysburg college.

The Rev. Dr. Van Ormer will be the speaker at the closing session in the evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. His subject is "Two Cords We Should Try to Plait." The Rev. Earl J. Bowman, pastor of St. James', will preside.

Besides the Rev. Dr. Rudisill, chairman, other members of the convention committee are Ervin M. Spangler, York; the Rev. O. C. Dean, Hanover; M. E. Knouse, Arentsville; W. A. Nickles, Newville; the Rev. L. F. Myers, Glen Rock; the Rev. Ralph W. Lind, Fayetteville, and the Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville.

STOCK REPORT

New York, June 5 (AP).—The stock market extended its gains today but encountered considerable profit taking on the rise. Trading tended to follow yesterday's example. Prices reacted moderately in the early transactions, but the list started upward when another spurt developed in the railroad group. Although resistance to the rally became fairly pronounced by afternoon, the market seemed to be in no hurry about reversing its trend.

Truck Overloaded 2 Tons, Police Say; Bring Charge Here

A truck driven by Chester Robbins for the Mahally trucking service, Wilkes-Barre, was stopped here, Thursday afternoon, by a state highway motor patrolman because the machine was overloaded more than two tons.

The machine, loaded with compressed burlap, was carrying 24,420 pounds, 4,620 pounds overweight.

An information charging Robbins with driving a truck loaded in excess of the legal limit was laid before Justice of the Peace John C. Shealer.

ELECT FORNEY BUS DIRECTOR

Extend Invitation For Operators To Meet In Gettysburg.

D. J. Forney, Gettysburg, president of the Gettysburg and Harrisburg transportation company, was re-elected a director of the Pennsylvania bus association at the annual convention of that organization which closed two-day sessions at the Juniata Crossings hotel, Everett, Thursday.

An invitation was extended the association by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce to hold its 1932 convention here. The invitation was referred to the executive committee, and it is understood that Gettysburg will be chosen for next year's meeting.

Business sessions were held Wednesday evening and Thursday. Plans for the betterment of bus transportation service and the improvements of conditions in that business were among the items of business before the convention.

Banquet Held

A banquet was held, Thursday evening, at which addresses were given by W. Y. Blanning, chief of the bureau of convenience, public service commission; Harvey C. Rose, bureau of accident investigation, public service commission; Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles; Captain W. C. Price and Captain Dorr, of the state highway motor patrol; John Meighan, secretary of the national association of motor bus operators, Washington, D. C.; Carl Stocks, associate editor of the Motor Bus magazine, New York city.

Officers of the association for the ensuing year include Thomas Noonan, Pittsburgh; William C. Moyer, Souderton, vice president; William C. McKay, Hazleton, secretary-treasurer; and Sterling G. McNeely, Harrisburg, general counsel.

About 100 bus operators attended the convention. Mr. Forney and George L. Taylor, general manager of the Gettysburg and Harrisburg transportation company, were in attendance from Gettysburg.

PRESIDENT OF WOMEN'S GROUP DIES SUDDENLY

Mother Of Senior At Gettysburg Is Dead On Eve Of His Graduation.

LEAVES SCHOOL FOR WASHINGTON

Mrs. Henry W. Snyder, president of the Woman's league of Gettysburg college and mother of Luther Snyder, a member of the 1931 graduating class at Gettysburg, died very suddenly at her home in Washington, D. C., Thursday night. She was the wife of Dr. Henry W. Snyder, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church in Washington and a director of the Gettysburg seminary.

Word of Mrs. Snyder's death, which cast a pall over the class day exercises here this afternoon, was received by Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, at their home on College campus at midnight and they broke the news of his mother's death to Snyder, who was living at the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity on Carlisle street. The youth left immediately for Washington and it is not expected that he will be here for commencement on Monday.

Well Known Here

Mrs. Snyder was well known in Gettysburg not only because of her son, but also because of her active interest in college activities for a number of years. She first became interested in college work in Johnstown where her husband was pastor of the First Lutheran church until slightly more than a year ago when he accepted the call to Washington.

She was president of the Woman's league of Gettysburg college in Johnstown and later was chairman of the executive committee of the general league, until she was elected president of the league last year. While in ill health, she was active until her death, having recently written a pageant which will be given here in November in commemoration of the league's 20th anniversary.

Mrs. Hanson stated today that Mrs. Snyder expected to be in Gettysburg over the week-end to attend the college commencement activities and fully expected to see her son receive his diploma on Monday morning. She was said to be very fond of the local student, the eldest of three sons.

Lived in Baltimore

Before her marriage to Doctor Snyder, in Baltimore in 1909, she was Miss Dorothea A. Heitmuller, of Baltimore. She had been educated in Baltimore and had won distinction as a public speaker.

Her death was reported to have been very sudden, although the cause was not learned here. She died before a physician could be summoned. Her health was described as having been poor for some time, although not so serious as to make her bedfast.

Beside her son, Luther, the other two sons who survive are William U. Snyder, and Henry W. Snyder.

Her son, Luther Snyder, was president of the college Y. M. C. A. for three years and was also very active in the Owl and Nightingale club. He was one of the most popular students on the campus in his class. He will receive his diploma regardless of his absence from the commencement exercises.

Carlisle Decides To Operate Its Own Water System

Carlisle is to have its own water system. The action to buy the plant was announced Thursday afternoon following a meeting of the special council water committee. The Pennsylvania power and light company, through A. D. Elias, Harrisburg, district manager, finally accepted council's offer of $375,000 for the Carlisle water supply system, without the three conditions formerly attached to the first conditional acceptance made by the company.

Following the report of the committee to be made to council at the next monthly meeting, which will be held on Wednesday June 10, council will take the next step by placing the bond issue proposal before the public.

The three conditions attached by the company to their first acceptance to sell, and which now have been discarded, were that the borough should turn over to the company Carlisle's "White Way" ornamental lighting system, enter a new power contract and adopt new power schedules.

RADIO PICTURE SHOWS FINISH OF ENGLISH DERBY

BIG INCREASE IN GAS TAXES

Collect More Money On 3 Cent Tax Than Year Ago On 4 Cents.

The department of revenue during the month of May collected $1,199,366.85 more gasoline tax at three cents a gallon than was collected in May, 1930, when the tax was four cents a gallon. Secretary of Revenue Clyde L. King announced Thursday.

Approximately one-half of this increase, Secretary King estimates, was due to collections of delinquent taxes and the other half resulted from more efficient and business-like collection.

"The collections in May of this year totaled $3,880,815.78 on liquid fuel taxes as compared with $2,681,448.93 in May, 1930, an increase of $1,199,366.85, or 44 percent," Secretary King said in a statement.

Big Increase In Gallons Taxed
"In May a year ago 67,183,660 gallons were taxed as contrasted with 126,466,945 gallons in May of this year, an increase of 88 per cent. The $2,681,448.93 of May last year was on a four-cent tax and the $3,880,815.78 collected in May of this year was under a three-cent tax."

"Had the four-cent tax been in effect this year on the same gallonage the department would have collected two and a half millions more in the one month than was collected a year ago."

"A month ago I made the statement that rotten politics in the department of revenue had cost the taxpayers $3,000,000 a year in the gasoline division alone. The returns for the month of May show that the loss to the taxpayers was almost that amount in one month. Huge sums paid willingly by taxpayers for road purposes have never got into roads."

"The credit for this phenomenal increase is due to A. P. Delahunt, the new chief of the bureau of liquid fuels. It is the result of the department's drive on boot-ler gasoline and efficiency in tax collection."

Lutheran Convention Protests
Birth Control Report of Council

Allentown, June 5.—Following similar action by the New York ministerium in New Haven, Connecticut, Wednesday, the Pennsylvania ministerium of the Lutheran church in its closing session here Thursday adopted a resolution petitioning the United Lutheran church in America to sever its consultative connection with the federal council of churches because of its recent pronouncement on birth control.

These two ministeriums represent about 1000 congregations from among a total of 3500. The motion was made by the Rev. Dr. J. C. Matthes, of Scranton.

Two Invitations
The invitations from Grace church, Lancaster, and St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, Atlantic City, for the 1932 conference were referred to the executive board.

All boards and agencies of the ministerium were reminded by special resolution that they should endeavor to avoid constantly recurring deficits. Critics of the fact that the synod for years have been actively engaged in work for boys through conferences and a summer camp, while doing nothing for the girls of the church, were satisfied when the problems of the boys' work committee was expanded into that of a committee on young people's activities, insuring adequate care of the interests of the girls.

Overwhelming Vote
Both Dr. O. S. Nolde, named to the chair of religious education, and Mr. Snyder were elected to their positions by the ministerium by overwhelming votes. Especially high tribute was paid to the financial liberality of E. Clarence Miller, of Philadelphia, president of the board of trustees at Mount Airy, and to his sacrificing labor and leadership in directing the affairs of the seminary.

Seminary mergers came up for brief consideration when the commission reported on conferences with a similar commission of United Lutheran Synod of New York relative to merging the Philadelphia seminary of Brooklyn, New York. It was pointed out that there were at least nine difficult situations which would require considerable study before they could be met satisfactorily; therefore, the commission was continued subject to a similar action by the United Synod of New York now in session at New Haven.

MAKES GESTURE
Rome, June 5 (AP).—Premier Mussolini today made a gesture of conciliation in the controversy between his government and the Vatican by offering to permit reopening of Catholic clubs for women and girls. The pope replied, replying in effect that all or none of the Catholic clubs recently dissolved be restored to good standing.

Private Grower
The purpose of the auxiliary forest reserve law was also to protect the private grower of timber by providing more equitable means of forest taxation in cases where the prevailing assessment threatened to be confiscatory through a long period of years and repeated taxation of each year's timber growth.

That the latter and usual system of taxation may prove noticeably unfair as applied to growing timber is appreciated when the methods by which trees develop is considered. When seventy-five years are required for one crop of timber to mature, the result is that the first five years' growth, for instance, is repeatedly taxed each year until the timber is cut. Thus the first year's growth is taxed during the entire seventy-five successive years, the fifth year's growth during twenty-five years and the only annual growth that is not taxed more than once is that of the year when the timber is cut.

STARTS ON TRIP

The craft was making seven knots in a smooth sea with good weather overhead.

FREDERICK COUNTY
REPAYS OLD LOAN

Frederick.—The sum of $88,000 borrowed by the county commissioners from the six banks of the city for emergency road work last winter was repaid Tuesday with interest. Repayment was made from the sale of the $100,000 bond issue authorized by the last general assembly, the bonds having recently been sold and the proceeds made available. In addition to the amount borrowed the sum of $1,397.58 was paid in interest, making a total disbursement for the day of $89,397.58.

The bond issue was recommended by the Emergency Drought association last November, in order to provide work on county roads for the unemployed. In addition to providing employment at a period when many persons were threatened with distress if not actual need for want of work, the employment placed the highways in repair in advance of spring, the usual time for this work and a double purpose was served.

HEAR CHARGES OF
KIDNAPPING CHILD

Chambersburg.—Mrs. Adelaide Feyman Rosenthal of New York City, divorced wife of Dunbar A. Rosenthal, local manufacturer, and Franklin K. Cordell of Pottsville, whom Mrs. Rosenthal knew as an egg dealer when she lived here, were given a hearing late Wednesday afternoon by Magistrate Fred K. Henninger on charges of abduction and assault and battery on Marjorie Rosenthal, 8.

Magistrate Henninger reserved his decision, stating he would announce it within a day or two.

Attacking the commonwealth for neglecting to show [by testimony the age of Marjorie Rosenthal, defense contended that the case should be dismissed because the act of assembly under which the abduction count was drawn requires that the child must be less than 10 years of age. Counsel argued that the commonwealth had failed to prove that the child involved was under 10.

BOY OF SEVEN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

York.—Allen E. Bollinger, Jr., seven years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Bollinger, this place, was killed instantly about 7:35 o'clock Wednesday evening, when he was struck by an automobile and pinned against a tree in front of his home by a fender of the car that struck him.

The youngster suffered from a fracture of the skull, a broken neck, a fracture of the jaw, and a deep ragged laceration of the left shoulder and back.

The small boy was riding a scooter car westward through Bruce alley, an investigation by Coroner L. U. Zech, revealed, while an automobile owned and operated by Mrs. Amy Meekley, 21 East Princess street, was traveling north on Elm Terrace. The woman was operating her car under a learner's permit, which was endorsed by a state official, giving her the right to operate on May 29, last.

DROUGHT HITS
FIELD CROPS

Comparison Shows Extent Of Dry Weather In State In 1930.

Five Pennsylvania counties each produced principal field crops valued in excess of $5,000,000 in 1930 despite the unprecedented drought and the reduced price levels, and only nine produced crops valued at less than $1,000,000, according to the bureau of statistics, Pennsylvania department of agriculture.

The effect of the drought is very noticeable, however, when the rank of certain counties in 1930 is compared with 1929, it was pointed out. Cumberland county, for example, dropped from eleventh to twenty-first place; Adams from seventh to fifteenth; Franklin from sixth to ninth; Lebanon from eleventh to nineteenth and Lehigh from eighth to seventeenth.

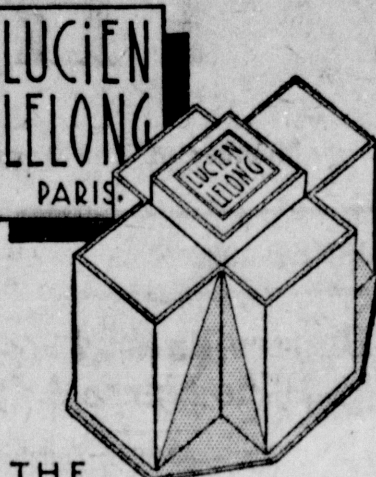

Lancaster continues to lead all counties in 1930, with an estimated value of crops exceeding $15,000,000, almost twice the total of any other county, and more than the total value of principal crops in New Hampshire and Rhode Island combined.

GAMBLERS HAVE IT OUT IN RENO

Faro Dealer Killed In Real
Old Wild West Shooting
In Gambling Hall.

Reno, Nev., June 5—The roulette wheels were clicking in the Haymarket gambling hall when in stalked Bill Graham, big-time gambler with diamonds on his fingers and a scowl on his face.

W. H. McCracken looked up from his faro board, pushed the green eye shade from his pallid forehead, reached for his six-shooter and pulled the trigger. Bartender and gamblers scurried for safety when Graham also yanked a gun from a pocket.

Bullets whizzed through the Haymarket gambling hall, smashed mirrors, ripped into slot machines. McCracken screamed, then slumped to his death with three bullets through his body.

It was not a movie. Neither did it happen in the gold rush of years ago. It occurred Thursday, in up-to-date Reno, while automobiles scurried past the door and smartly dressed women obtained rapid-fire divorces from two judges not many blocks away.

Graham Not Taken to Jail
Graham, an associate of Jack Dempsey in sports promotion, was placed under technical arrest, but was not taken to jail.

He told the sheriff that he had shot in self defense. The poker players, roulette addicts and the faro fans in the Haymarket club confirmed his story.

They said that if McCracken's gun had not jammed when he jumped from his green-covered table, Graham probably would have been killed.

"Our trouble was over money matters," said the suave Graham, whose gambling activities are sanctioned by Nevada law. "McCracken was trying to get me."

Senator's Son In Celebration And Is Fined In New York

New York, June 5 (AP)—Lowell Fess, 38, who told police today that he was the son of Senator Simeon Fess, of Ohio, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

After paying the fine, Fess thought to dodge photographers and was so successful that the best of the photographers had was a picture of his straw hat in front of his face. Fess was arrested in front of a speak easy by a patrolman who said Fess was creating a disturbance. Fess apologized for his conduct and said he had been celebrating the arrival of a baby in his family.

The following winter, Antonio was again with Augustin Daly's company. Harriet was given a good part in a road company under the management of Roy Donovan. The boy, Bruce Carey, about five years old, was still with his step-father, and played a child part in the cast.

All that winter, Antonio, in New York, watched the theatrical papers for news of the road company with which Harriet, Donovan and the child, Bruce, moved from city to city. He wrote to her as often as he dared.

Antonio's work in Cincinnati, the fact that he had been engaged for a second New York season by Augustin Daly and the favorable notices which the New York critics gave him that winter, led the owner of the Cincinnati company to offer him an engagement as leading man for the summer season.

Then came the news almost too wonderful to be true: Harriet Noel was booked to play leading parts with him.

That Roy Donovan was to be their manager did not in the least dim Antonio's happiness. He had never liked Donovan, but he had not seen the fellow for several years and well, he, Antonio Latour, would be leading man and Harriet Noel the leading lady; that was all that mattered. Their names would appear together on the billboard, in the newspapers, on the programs—everywhere it would be for all the world to see—Antonio Latour and Harriet Noel.

In that which meant so much more to him than his career on the stage, this Cincinnati engagement was Antonio's great opportunity. (Copyright, 1930, by D. Appleton & Co.)

A woman's scream averts a tragedy tomorrow, a disillusioned pinnacle.

Class Of 33 Get Academy Diplomas At Commencement

Dr. Harry H. Beideman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Hanover, told the 33 members of the graduating class of Gettysburg academy at the commencement exercises what they can expect to find in the world they will be entering. He pointed out that as most of them would be continuing on into schools of higher education, their problems would still be ones of study, but of a more serious nature than those they found in the preparation courses.

The exercises were held this morning in Brua chapel, it being the 164th class to be graduated from the academy since its founding. Dr. Charles H. Huber, headmaster of the academy, presided at the exercises.

The senior dance tonight will conclude the academy year.

Helene Madison, Seattle, world's champion woman swimmer, is much stronger this year than she was last in the opinion of her coach, Ray Daughters. She weighs 156 pounds, having gained five since last summer.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN GOATS
By Mary Graham Bonner

John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock stood below a rocky mountain. He told them to look above the timber line and see if they could see anything.

"I see nothing but rock, solid rock," said John.

"Look again!" urged the Clock.

"Do I see something moving up there, or is it only my imagination?" Peggy asked.

"Yes, I see something too. I'm sure I do. Don't I?" John asked the Little Black Clock.

The Clock laughed.

"Well," he said, "as long as you ask me if you see something up there I will answer that you do, and we'll go up further so that we can meet a number of them."

"You've just seen a Rocky Mountain goat, and you'll see some more in a few minutes."

They now climbed until they reached a wide ledge up the side of the rocky mountain, and there they saw many, many goats.

"We'll have to talk to them," the Little Black Clock said, "and with the aid of my magic you'll be able to understand goat language."

Some of the goats jumped down from the ledge and others climbed to the spot where John and Peggy and the Clock were seated.

"Your people weren't able to get the best of us," said one of them. "We knew enough not to have a delicious taste."

"What do you mean?" John asked.

"They don't kill us because we're not good to eat," was the answer.

"We don't care to be praised for being good to eat. We'd much rather be safe in our mountains."

An Evening Thought

The highest philosophy of the future will consist in doing each day that which is most useful. Talking about it will be quite incidental and secondary.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Garvin—Frommer: Miss Ellen Marguerite Frommer and Howard Madison Garvin were married at three o'clock Thursday afternoon at St. Francis Xavier rectory by the Rev. W. F. Boyle. After the ceremony they left by automobile for Atlantic City, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of imported blue flannel. Her hat was white and she wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. Her maid of honor, Miss Emma K. Frommer, wore green silk pongee and a pink hat. The best man was Francis M. Rooney, of Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Frommer, Chambersburg street. Mr. Garvin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Garvin, of Buford street. He is engaged in the manufacture of printing machinery at Wilmington, Delaware, where they will be at home after July first.

Parade Struck a Local Event: Lacking many of the spectacular features of other years the Memorial Day parade was strictly a local event.

Chief Marshal Tawney and aides, Morris Starsh, Lawrence Oyster, Roy E. Zinn, Ralph Wierman and C. B. Hoffman had charge of the parade.

At the rostrum Dr. T. C. Billheimer conducted the exercises. The Rev. W. R. Glen offered prayer, Dr. C. F. Sanders read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and the oration was delivered by Hon. A. B. Gardner, Congressman from Massachusetts. The benediction by Dr. T. C. Billheimer concluded the exercises.

McKenrick—Brady: Miss Susan Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brady, of near Seven Stars, and James W. McKenrick, of Bu-

Read The Bible With Us Daily

After these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

And the passover, a feast if the Jews, was nigh.

When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

And Jesus saith, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

chanan Valley, were married Tuesday morning in St. Ignatius church, Buchanan Valley, by the Rev. P. P. Sullivan. Upon their return from a short wedding trip they will reside in Franklin township.

New Pastor Installed: Large audiences were present both morning and evening at Trinity Reformed church on Sunday for the services incident to the ordination and installation of the Rev. Paul R. Pontius as pastor of the congregation. In the morning the Rev. A. S. Dechant, of Hanover, conducted the ordination, and Dr. T. J. Barkley the installation. In the evening the sermon was preached by the Rev. J. W. Pontius, of Butler, father of the new pastor. The church was beautifully decorated for both services.

Tawney—Barnard: Perry J. Tawney, son of Frank Tawney, of Gettysburg, and Miss Catherine J. Barnard, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnard, of Hanover, were married at 10:30 Saturday morning at the parsonage of St. Matthew's Lutheran church by the Rev. A. M. Heilman, the ring ceremony being used.

After a short wedding trip they will be at home in York.

Gave Concert: About $50 was cleared by Thursday night's concert given by the Treble Clef club in Bruns Chapel for the benefit of the Woman's League of the college. The members of the club are: first soprano, Mrs. Mark Eckert; Miss Reba Miller, Mrs. R. E. Zinn, Mrs. Jacob Munger and Mrs. H. R. Shepherd; second soprano, Miss George Sachs, Miss Nell Blocher, Miss Mary Himes, Miss Elsie Gerlach and Mrs. W. R. Glen; first alto, Mrs. H. C. Alleman, Mrs. W. F. Gilliland, Miss Eva Dize and Miss Carrie Miller; second alto, Mrs. George Rice, Miss Kate Gilbert, Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Mrs. G. D. Stahley and Mrs. E. Taylor. The chorus was directed in preparation for the concert by Mrs. J. B. Baker. Miss Elsie Gerlach was the reader for the evening.

Many On Excursion: Included in the Gettysburg people on the excursion run by St. Francis Xavier Beneficial League were the following: Bernard Maguire, P. M. Bruner, Miss Nina Storrick, Norman Reichle, Vincent Redding, Adam Redding, Edward Redding, J. C. Redding, Robert K. Major, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward McCammon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, Mrs. J. Elmer Musselman, Mrs. William D. Armer, Brady Armer, Charles Redding, Miss Annie Major, George Benner, Esq., Herbert Allison, John Newman, Miss Maud Menchey, B. Conti, Samuel Rhine, Miss Anna Hollebaugh, Edgar Hamilton, Mrs. John Zhea, Miss Helen Zhea, Miss Regina Knox, Mr. and Mrs. William King.

Personal: Dr. and Mrs. Amos Musselman, of Stamford, Connecticut, are spending several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Musselman on Baltimore street.

Mrs. A. M. Scott, of Braddock, and daughter, Rebecca, are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Dickson on West Middle street.

Clara Bow, John Gilbert Work In Louisville Plant

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Clara Bow and John Gilbert are both employees of a tobacco manufacturing plant here, the company's payroll records show.

Clara, a red-head, is less than two months older than the movie actress of the same name.

NEW YORK Day by Day by O.O. McIntyre

New York, June 5.—Thoughts while strolling: Ping pong and archery schools. Gertrude Farrar's lover than ever. Sunny skies and skimming birds, tra la. Those incredibly old men carrying spiked sticks, gunny sacks. And faces the shriveled brown of an apple core.

The former Jessie Woolworth Isaac Marcossan, a Louisville, Ky. boy, who made good in the city. An O. Henry tea room. Hotel announcements: "Rooms Available." I'll say they are. Anna Case always seems so self-conscious. Chunky fellows, smelling of barber lotions, who stand on street corners using nail clippers.

A Chinese mother and her slant-eyed twins. Paul Tremaine's gang of coned boys who play in a Broadway jazz band. The shadow of palms in an undertaker's windows—like clutching fingers. Ugh! And the crooning blur of a love song from a radio shop. Ed Wynn grows stout.

The scholarly critics of the Times—J. Brooks Atkinson. Who suggests a Kansas play boy reading Epictetus. Barney Gallant has the world's shaggy eyebrows. A shady hotel where the notorious Gondorfs held out. Now a respectable inn named for a president.

The hush of chatterers when they step into an art gallery. A bootlegger engraves his card "Vinyardist." The stab of New York's sneering laughter. And the valiant it has crushed. George White swings by with a platinum blond. Sign: "To smart people who are thrifty." All smart people are thrifty. And lost it in unwise investments.

Eva Steinmetz who looks like a fashion designer. And is. Old time grocery with ginger snaps in window jars. Wonder who names cookies for the National Biscuit company. There's a career—cookie naming! What became of Charles Voight, the cartoonist? I never knew a negro called Rastus.

—OO—
The motor scissors grinder with a white uniform and gold braided cap. Vincent Astor stops at a stall filled with finger-fretted books. A red-shirted Italian waves a dynamite flag and the crowds rush scatterwise. A girl steps out of a cigar shop puffing a cigarette. What happened to the simple life?

—OO—
One of the noisiest day time spots in a clamorous city is the West Washington market, running off 23d street—an area of the live poultry industry filled with crows, clucks and quacks. The district is crisscrossed with narrow little alleys and sudden turns. In one building dealers gather to fix prices for the day under the rule of a union chief—"Tootsie" Herbert. His slight nod is law.

—OO—
But West 23d street after dark is checkered with solitude. Once boiling with night life it is now solemn in its desolation. It would not seem out of place to hear the forlorn cry of a whippoorwill in the moonlight. And above it all is a ghostly glow—the frown of wraiths who do not wish to be disturbed by prowlers.

—OO—
Walking along deserted thoroughfares late at night I am always in excited pulsation—expecting anything to happen from the slug of a footpad to the sudden growl of a ferocious beast. Yet it occurs to me the only annoyances, frights or mishaps I have ever encountered on the streets were in thickly congested districts.

—OO—
My pocket has been picked in crowded subways. A falling safe knocked off the straw hat of a man to whom I was talking on a busy street in Dayton, O. A dozen times automobiles have fanned my coat tail crossing 5th avenue. I went up to my neck in a coal hole on 72d street watching a street parade. A marmoset hopped out of a lady's muff at a counter in a department store landing at my elbow, resulting in periodical attacks of hiccupus since. What I need is a wide second-hand prairie.

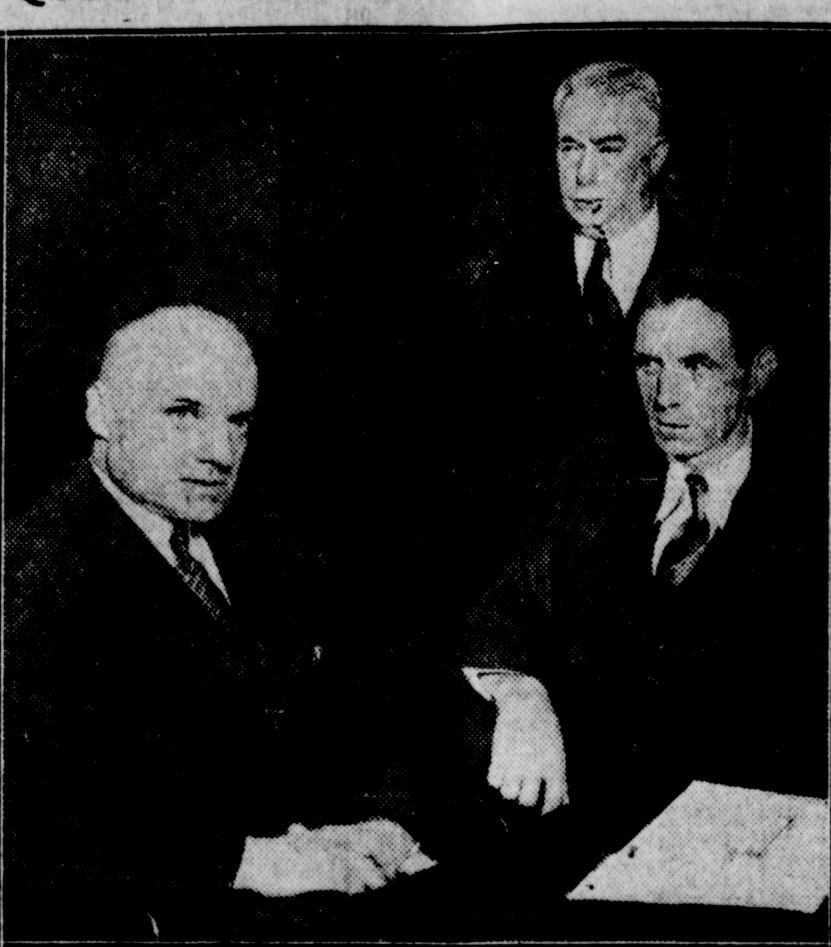

—OO—
Right here the phone rang and the operator announced Row W. Howard. "I have a young man in my office," he said, "who is trying to make a newspaper connection. He is a clean cut chap out of the west and I believe has a future." (I thought to myself he must have if the publisher of some 20 newspapers was turning to me to find him a job.) Anyway he put him on. It was Will Rogers—the gum chewing ridge hopper!

—OO—
Also a telegram: "Your stuff has been great lately. J. G. Bottom." Thanks to Mr. Bottom from the bottom of my heart and the bottom of the column. (Copyright, 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

GETS FINAL DECREE
Poughkeepsie, June 5 (AP).—The final decree of divorce in the "marital difficulties" of Mrs. Anna Stillman and James A. Stillman has been granted by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser. Although the decree was entered yesterday, it was not discovered until this afternoon.

Grape vines planted near San Diego, California, 44 years ago still are producing, although they are not irrigated.

How to End RHEUMATISM
New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons from Joints and Muscles

EASES PAIN FIRST DAY
Poisons settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatic agony till every trace of these dangerous poisons is driven out of your system. That's why external remedies and pain deadening drugs only give temporary relief.

What you need is RU-MA, the new medicine now sold by all druggists; that acts directly on the liver, kidneys and blood, and helps expel through the natural channels of elimination the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatic misery.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop. RU-MA eases pain the first day and is the one rheumatism remedy guaranteed to free muscles and joints from all painful stiffness, swelling and lameness, or nothing to pay.

People's Drug Store has so much confidence in RU-MA that they want every rheumatic in town to try it and guarantee money-back if it does not end rheumatism.

STOP CONSTIPATION THIS PLEASANT WAY

ONCE PEOPLE thought pills and drugs were the only way to relieve constipation. But the modern, safer method is to include sufficient roughage in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a delicious ready-to-eat cereal, gives you this bulk, and overcomes constipation naturally. Read this enthusiastic letter:

Lutherans Discuss Merger Of Schools

Allentown, June 4 (AP).—The Lutheran ministerium of Pennsylvania today discussed the merger of the Gettysburg and Susquehanna divinity schools but took no final action on the proposed consolidation.

A similar merger of the Philadelphia and the Hartwick, Brooklyn, seminaries, also was considered.

Today's session was devoted largely to the discussion of educational problems.

Emory university, in Atlanta, which does not compete in inter-collegiate athletics, has employed six coaches for next year to instruct students for intramural sports.

SCARECROWS ARE CHANGING STYLE

Would-be Wearers Of Day Pajamas Scared Away By Appearance.

Hollywood (AP).—Pajama "scarecrows" are scaring support away from a style which deserves to be something more than a fad, says Adrian, who designs costumes for the stars who talk before the camera.

"The fantastic appearances some women make in them frighten even an enthusiastic admirer of the fine qualities of pajamas," is the opinion of this stylist.

Simply because pajamas were born on the beach is no reason why they cannot be well-mannered in the drawing room, Adrian says. Their dressy effect is being spoiled by women who have no knowledge of how to wear them.

No Special Style

"Several years ago," he says, "when the long skirt was first introduced, the freakish sights one saw on the streets were enough to discourage even the designers from wanting to create them."

"Now women seem to be satisfied that they are wearing pajamas, without considering the line, the length of the coat or the style."

Adrian believes pajamas have as much right to be treated sincerely and be well fitted as a dress.

"The enthusiasm now is good natured instead of serious," Adrian believes. "Until the pajama has matured to a state of dignity it will have a tendency to smack remotely of Corey Lister."

Tightness Ugly

"There are dozens of ways of disguising the pajama while retaining its effect. It isn't necessary to wear a pair of pants buttoned so tightly around the hips that one looks about to burst out of them. Even a dress, when too tight, is ugly."

"Pajamas are dangerous to experiment with, as is any new style. Good dressers will wait until the present enthusiasm subsides into a conservative and definite knowledge before investing much in pajama outfits."

SPORT SLANTS
ALAN GOULD
ASSOCIATED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR
"How can you overlook Mickey Cochrane," inquires a Detroit observer, "in picking the most valuable member of Connie Mack's worlds' champions?"

"I note there is a tendency to name Al Simmons for this distinction. Al no doubt is a greater all-around batsman, although he has not been outperforming Mickey by much so far this spring. Taking into account Cochrane's speed, his ability to work almost every day, double-headers included, and his aggressiveness, I think he rates at the keystone of the club."

"I would be willing to bet his absence would be more keenly felt than Simmons'; in other words, if the A's were obliged to make a choice, they would be better off with Cochrane behind the bat."

Connie Straddles

Connie Mack prefers to remain neutral in any argument over the relative merits of his two bright stars. He is satisfied to struggle along with both Simmons and Cochrane in the line-up, batting 400 or better and breaking up ball games on very short notice.

Many competent baseball men regard Cochrane as the greatest catcher of all time, although there are still many kind words to be said for Buck Ewing, Lou Criger, Johnny Kling, Rogers Bresnahan, Ray Schalk and others.

I recall a chat at Chicago, during the 1929 world's series, with Mordecai (Three-fingered) Brown.

One might have imagined Brown, now a prosperous oil man, would be impressed by the opening pitching performance of Howard Ehmke in setting down the hard-hitting Cubs. He was but he was more impressed with the work of Cochrane behind the plate.

"I have never seen a more masterful performance by a backstop," remarked Brown. "Cochrane amazed me with his good judgment as well as his speed and hitting ability. He's the best catcher I have ever seen."

Hard-Hitting Back

Cochrane's great career in baseball has overshadowed the fact that he also was a football star for Boston university. The boys who saw him in his college days tell me he was as hard-running a ball carrier as you would care to see on any gridiron.

It may have been tough on the neighbors but Mickey also mastered the saxophone. He buried the hatchet with Burleigh Grimes after the last world's series and went into vaudeville.

He was born Gordon Stanley Cochrane, at Bridgewater, Mass., in 1903. The A's call him "Mike," the fans "Mickey" and his opponents "Gordon" in a somewhat derisive tone. He has never caught less than 120 games a season since coming to Philadelphia from Portland, Ore., in 1925.

Washington and Lee and Virginia claim two of the south's greatest all-around athletes in Leigh Williams and Herbert Bryant. Both have won four letters.

MANY CHANGES MADE IN CODE

Junk Cars Will Not Be Given Plates After Start Of 1933.

A summary of important changes in the vehicle code of Pennsylvania is made by J. Maxwell Smith, general manager of the Keystone automobile club.

"Junk" cars may be ruled off the highway under the provision requiring official inspection of used cars before new title will be issued. This provision will be effective upon application for registration in 1933.

Habitual violators of provisions of the code now run the risk of having both their operators' licenses and the registrations of their cars revoked.

Passing On Right

Passing on the right is legalized in business and residence districts having two or more traffic lanes marked in one direction.

Motorists are prohibited from driving upon or crossing trolley tracks when a street car has started to cross the intersection.

Counties are given the right to designate "through" highways. Heretofore this authority was vested only in the secretary of highways and the authorities of cities and boroughs.

"Stop" intersections are provided for, in addition to the "through" traffic stop provision.

Pedestrians are safeguarded by a clause which definitely requires that all vehicular traffic shall yield the right of way to pedestrians crossing or starting to cross a roadway on the green signal.

Change Lights

Left turns on the yellow or amber light are abolished. Where a special light is required for the left turn, it must be in the form of a green arrow in the fourth position below the present green light, or to the right of the green where the signals are in a horizontal position.

Flashing yellow signals require drivers to slow down and cross intersections cautiously.

Flashing red signals—the use of which is restricted to cities—have the same significance as a "Stop" sign.

"Car watchers" are definitely ruled out by a provision which prohibits any person from standing on or near a street or highway for the purpose of soliciting the "watching" or guarding of any vehicle, while parked or about to be parked.

Charges in summary offense cases must be brought before a magistrate nearest to the point where offense was committed, but within the city, borough or township where the violation occurred.

The "hitch-hiker" is required to stay off the traveled portion of the highway. The codes makes it unlawful for any person to stand on the highway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of any motor vehicle.

FALL IS ASKED WHEN HE WILL BEGIN JAIL TERM

Washington, June 5 (AP).—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, was asked Thursday to inform the district attorney's office when he would come to Washington to begin a year's prison term.

Fall, convicted of accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny in connection with the naval oil reserve lease, is at his home at Three Rivers, New Mexico. A reply was expected today.

District Attorney Rover asked Frank Hogan, Fall's attorney, to get in touch with his client after the mandate had been handed down to District of Columbia supreme court Monday, refusing to review the case.

Only One Step Remains

All the legal steps in Fall's long struggle to reverse his conviction are over save one. That is the warrant of commitment to jail. Atlee Pomerene, special prosecutor in the oil lease trials, is expected to appear in open court to ask for it.

Fall's friends are hopeful the judge at that time will suspend the jail sentence because of the convicted man's health. There is a fine of $100,000 also, but the government may have trouble in collecting it. Fall recently said he was without funds.

How Iron In the Blood Helps Push You Forward To Health, Success and Power

While Lack of Iron May Drag You Backward to the Depth of Weakness, Ill-health and Despair — Physician Explains Why Men of Iron Will, Strong Determination and Purposeful Actions Are Men of Blood and Iron — THE KIND OF MEN ORGANIC IRON — LIKE VEGETIZED IRON — HELPS MAKE BY BUILDING RED BLOOD Strength and Endurance.

"There are thousands of men who can look back to the time when they seemed to be on the road to success, yet who today are nervous wrecks, business failures and physical and mental weaklings, all through a lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles," said a prominent physician. "They have lost sight of the fact that a sound, strong body, brimming over with vital force and energy is the basis of all real achievement and as a result they are breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect, bodily health which craves defiance to failure and disease. Yet the moment they get the right kind of iron in their blood to give increased strength and endurance, they gain physical poise and fitness, mental alertness and the tireless energy that carries them to the top. I strongly advise every man who is fagged out by worry, long hours and overwork to build up his strength, energy and endurance by taking some form of organic iron—Vegetized Iron—for I consider it one of the foremost blood and body builders, the best to which I have ever had recourse."

Another outstanding physician in a metropolitan city says: "Weakened by the heavy drudgery upon their nerve force and physical strength, many men are held back in life by lack of iron in the blood. Their thin, pale, watery blood has utterly lost the power to send energy and power through the body and as a result they are lacking in strength and endurance and are forced to drop back among the weaklings and failures—because their blood is literally starving for health-giving iron. Today, it is red blood—rich in iron—such as Vegetized Iron helps to build that gives men the force, energy and power to conquer obstacles and become virtually masters of their own destinies. Time and again I have seen Vegetized Iron begin to give weak, nervous men new vigor, energy and endurance in only two weeks' time."

Manufacturers' Note: Vegetized Iron, which is recommended above, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the cheap inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor affect the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee its success and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser of this well-reputed product. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

WOMAN IS FOR DEATH PENALTY

Writer Thinks It Would Be Deterrent For Criminal Gangs.

By Sue McNamara

Washington (AP).—In company she believes, with many women of the country Mary Roberts Rinehart, widely known author and writer of detective fiction, is abandoning her scruples against capital punishment.

The country wide prevalence of crimes committed in cold blooded, calculating fashion for profit is responsible. She believes punishment to fit the crime is the only way to remedy the present situation.

In the quiet of her tree shaded work room in her spacious, cream colored house on one of the capital's fashionable thoroughfares, she talked thoughtfully of the tragedies being enacted from Los Angeles to New York. Her Queen Anne desk was in order. Her day's work finished.

"Only by the fear of punishment is society protected against the criminal; by swift and sure retribution," she said.

Cold Blooded Crimes
"I am not talking of crimes of passion, which are never affected by such fear, but of cold blooded crimes committed for profit of one sort or another."

"Crime has recently become profitable. The percentage of murderers who pay the extreme penalty is almost negligible in our mounting lists of killings, and the more profitable the crime, the more money available to defend the criminal."

Mrs. Rinehart, five times a grandmother but retaining her look of freshness and youth, continued: "We may have to return to the old idea of vengeance," she said, "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

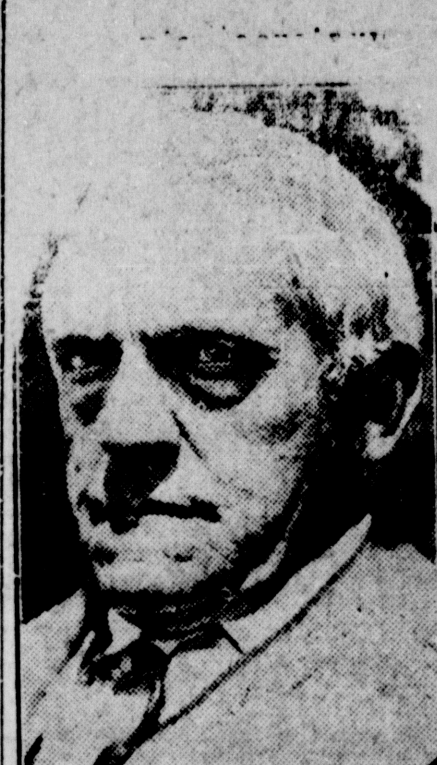

"Along with respect for law, too many have lost their respect for property and even for human life."

"It is absurd to blame crime on moving pictures, or to seek any other such explanation. The plain fact is that too many criminals are finding crime profitable and are escaping its consequences."

"The reign of terror should be reversed, and the bandit go in fear of his life; not the decent citizen."

It is Mrs. Rinehart's custom to read and study the crimes published daily in the newspapers.

"Ma" Stribling, mother of the heavyweight contender, is personally supervising his meals while he is in training for his championship fight with Max Schmeling.

MICHIGAN GIRL HAS STAGE FAME

Began As Mimic And Now Is Director Of Big Theatre Company.

London (AP).—A Michigan girl who used to mimic the actors she saw on the stage has become one of London's important theater directors.

She is Ellen Von Volkenburg, born in Battle Creek, Michigan, and a graduate of Michigan university. For three years she has been in London—she loves it—and at present she is director of the London Theatre company and of Maurice Browne, Ltd.

When she was just a little girl she used to mimic—she calls it imitate—actors in plays she had seen, remembering lines and situations with a kind of knack. This she continued, for her friends, during her college days, until "a woman in Detroit" saw her.

Mimicked Actors
The Detroit woman hustled her off to an agent and she toured the states with her imitations. Soon, however, she was an actress and later became interested in the little theater movement.

Six years she spent in Chicago where she was one of the founders of the first little theater. Then she was in San Francisco for two years and before coming to London lived in New York.

Originally she came to London with her marionettes (she does that, too) to operate them in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and then stayed on when the Arts theater asked her to direct "The Unknown Warrior."

She also directed Paul Robeson in "Othello" here and at the moment is responsible for "The Venetians," a delicate comedy.

She still acts, and she likes it, but direction she believes the more difficult, even the higher art.

She still is intensely interested in the Little Theater movement in the United States, and thinks it highly important that they encourage their own writers.

At The Strand
"More fun than a barrel of monkeys" is literally, filmically true in "Rango," the Paramount adventure-story epic which comes to the Strand Saturday. For in this amazing show there are not only more monkeys than a barrel-full in evidence, but there is actually a point in the action where great numbers of monkeys provide unbridled amusement by their antics in and about a barrel of provisions in Ali's bamboo cabin pantry during that intrepid old tiger-hunter's absence.

"Rango" is an astonishing drama of primal life with ample elements of comedy intermixed with its tragedy.

More than $10,000.00 worth of livestock was handled through the stockyards at Montgomery, Alabama, during 1930.

DIPLOMATS TRY TO SOLVE ISSUE

Il Duce Makes No Move Toward Conciliation With Pope Pius.

Rome, June 5 (AP).—The ablest diplomats in the court of Pope Pius conferred with him Thursday regarding the critical situation between the church and the state, but the Italian government apparently was making no move toward conciliation.

On the other hand, members of the Catholic clubs which have been closed by government order have been informed that up to July 1 they are eligible for membership in Fascist organizations. After that date they will be required to work their way up through the Fascist ranks to eligibility.

Processions Forbidden
The Marchese Pacelli, attorney to the pope and brother of the papal secretary of state, attended the conference with the pontiff Thursday morning. It has been reported that the marchese, with Cardinal Gasparri, has been conducting informal negotiations for a settlement of the dispute.

As a gesture of protest against the dissolution of Catholic clubs the pope Thursday forbade the customary religious processions commemorating Corpus Christi day outside the Catholic churches.

The ceremonies were held inside and the priests in Italy's 20,000 parishes explained to their congregations that the unusual procedure was taken because there was no guarantee that the Corpus Christi processions would be free from danger of interruption by those who have engaged in anti-Catholic demonstrations for the last week or so.
